

« Woolf contemporaine / A Contemporary Woolf »

Société d'Études Woolfiennes

International Conference, in Aix-en-Provence

September 17th & 18th, 2010

Organised by the Université de Provence

at the Maison méditerranéenne des sciences de l'homme

Registration fees (payable on arrival):

Speakers who are members of the French Société d'études woolfiennes : 30€ (all meals, including dinner in town on Saturday night, will be free of charge)

Speakers other than SEW members: 40 € (all meals, including dinner in town on Saturday night, will be free of charge)

All doctoral students, whether members or not, giving papers : 30€, including all meals.

Would any speakers wishing to invite a guest to the Saturday evening meal please contact Claire Davison before September 10th. Guests' meals must be paid separately.

For others wishing to attend the conference:

Members of the SEW: 30 € registration fees (prior registration will entitle you to lunch) You may also sign up IN ADVANCE for the buffet and theatre, for an extra 10 €

Doctoral students: no inscription charges for those wishing merely to attend the conference. Prior registration plus lunch: 20 €; registration, lunch and buffet / theatre: 40 €

A limited number of places can be reserved for non-speakers also wishing to join us for dinner on Saturday. Please contact Claire Davison should you be interested.

Fees can be paid in euros or in pounds sterling, in cash or by cheque.

Please note that a selection of papers given at the conference will be published by the journal Etudes britanniques contemporaines (Presses universitaires de la Méditerranée), after anonymous peer-reviewing by the journal's scientific committee. In accordance with the journal's policy, all authors will be expected to be members of the French Virginia Woolf Society (SEW). If you would like to join already and benefit from the reduced conference fees, please fill in the form included in the welcome package, or contact our treasurer Nathalie Pavec either directly during the conference, or by e-mail (nathalie.pavec@free.fr)

SEW Membership costs 25 € per year, and 15 € for students.